EVENT DESCRIPTION | DESCRIPTION DE L'ÉVÉNEMENT

The 2026 Pacific XC Canada Cup will be held on Friday March 13 and Saturday March 14 at the Jordie Lunn Bike Park in Langford BC. Grass roots racing will be offered to the general public on Sunday March 15 as part of the Island Cup XC Racing Series. More than 1,000 athletes of all ages are expected to take part. As every year, a festive atmosphere will welcome the athletes and their families.

The City of Langford returns to host the Canada Cup from a hiatus since 2019 and is using the same venue and race courses that were used for the 2025 Canadian XCC/XCO MTB Championships.

The Jordie Lunn Bike Park is a free, year-round cycling park designed for riders of all ages and abilities, featuring dirt jumps, a world-class Velosolutions pump track, skills zones, and cyclocross/MTB trails. It also serves as a major event venue and community hub, hosting races, training programs, and bicycle industry demo's.

The Clubhouse is a 5000 sq. ft. onsite facility that houses Rhino Coffee, Bici / Broad St Cycles (offering bike repairs and rentals) and office space for Cycling BC, Cycling Canada and Nolan Riding.

The City of Langford has wonderful amenities, restaurants, hotels, shopping, and easy on-and-off access from Highway 1. The Victoria International Airport is 30 minutes away to the North. Ferry services make this event easily accessible to cycling fans coming from BC Mainland and US Washington State. Positioned as a training area for the Canadian National Team, Langford has risen quickly to truly be declared as a world class cycling destination.

La Coupe du Canada Pacific XC 2026 aura lieu les vendredi 13 et samedi 14 mars au Jordie Lunn Bike Park à Langford, en Colombie-Britannique. Des courses amateurs seront proposées au grand public le dimanche 15 mars dans le cadre de la série de courses de cross-country Island Cup. Plus de 1000 athlètes de tous âges sont attendus. Comme chaque année, une ambiance festive accueillera les athlètes et leurs familles.

La ville de Langford revient pour accueillir la Coupe du Canada après une pause depuis 2019 et utilise le même site et les mêmes parcours que ceux utilisés pour les Championnats canadiens de VTT XCC/XCO 2025.

Le Jordie Lunn Bike Park est un parc cycliste gratuit, ouvert toute l'année, conçu pour les cyclistes de tous âges et de tous niveaux. Il comprend des sauts en terre, une piste de pompage Velosolutions de classe mondiale, des zones d'entraînement et des pistes de cyclocross/VTT. Il sert également de lieu d'événements majeurs et de centre communautaire, accueillant des courses, des programmes d'entraînement et des démonstrations de l'industrie du vélo.

Le Clubhouse est un bâtiment de 5000 pieds carrés qui abrite Rhino Coffee, Bici / Broad St Cycles (qui propose des services de réparation et de location de vélos) et des bureaux pour Cycling BC, Cycling Canada et Nolan Riding.

La ville de Langford offre de superbes commodités, restaurants, hôtels, boutiques et un accès facile depuis l'autoroute 1. L'aéroport international de Victoria se trouve à 30 minutes au nord. Les services de ferry rendent cet événement facilement accessible aux amateurs de cyclisme venant de la Colombie-Britannique continentale et de l'État de Washington aux États-Unis. Positionnée comme zone d'entraînement pour l'équipe nationale canadienne, Langford s'est rapidement imposée comme une destination cycliste de classe mondiale.
